Custom Mask Commissions

This is a list of basic starting prices for different kinds of custom masks. The figures cover the time and materials for sculpting, making the mold, casting the mask, and painting. The actual price will depend on the design of the mask and requested embellishments. Elements such as teeth, eye screens, precise geometric details, horns, wigs, hats, complex paint finishes, etc. all add to sculpting and fabricating time, and thus affect the price of a custom mask. It is sometimes possible to create a custom piece using one of Beckie's existing stock molds or a purchased base. If this is an option, that could bring the price down.

The price for custom work is also affected by how soon you need the mask, and what other projects are currently booked in the studio. The Mask Studio is a one-person shop, and if the deadline on a new project will require Beckie working nights and weekends in order to fit the project into the current schedule, that will be reflected in the price.
